**REP. TOM EMMER:

** How about that Alex Ovechkin, oh wrong group. President Trump's multi-pronged economic strategy to renew the American dream demands congressional action. The stakes are high. House Republicans must work in tandem with President Trump to deliver the agenda that 77 million Americans sent here to enact. This includes renewing President Trump's successful tax policy in order to give Americans the financial certainty and prosperity they deserve. In addition to the administration's historic actions to secure nearly five trillion in investments and trade commitments in a massive deregulation campaign. House Republicans must also ensure the continuance of the 2017 Trump tax cuts through reconciliation. We're excited by the way to host US Treasury Secretary Besant letter today for a roundtable to address the importance and urgency of getting this done. Remember the Senate version of the budget resolution does not prevent the house from achieving the goals we set for ourselves earlier in this process. In fact it doesn't mean a thing to the house. We will continue to advocate for the final reconciliation bill to include historic spending reductions while protecting essential programs. But we must act now to bring the process to moving the America first agenda on track. The American people are hungry for economic prosperity. They were denied for four long years under Joe Biden and Kamala Harris. Together the Republican trifecta can deliver that prosperity and return hope of financial freedom to every American. The work ahead will not be easy but we will get it done. Failure in Congress could mean failing President Trump and the American people and that is not an option. With that I turn it over to our leader Mr. Scalise.
