*REP. TOM EMMER:

 Thanks, Richard. I first want to say thank you to my house Republican colleagues for electing me to serve as their majority whip once again It's a privilege and a responsibility. I do not take lightly. We treat the whip office like a customer service office We are here to serve our members and the people they represent We don't take anyone or any vote for granted and we will continue building a culture of teamwork Communication and respect to deliver more wins on behalf of the American people now that we have our leadership team in place It's time to suit up and get to work President Trump delivered the greatest political comeback in American history based on his proven record and Promise to make this country great again Voters also gave him a Republican Senate and a Republican House to help him do it. So now it's our turn It's our turn to make good on the priorities We've been campaigning on for the last two years by passing legislation to make life more affordable for all Americans secure our borders unleash American energy restore our dominance on the world stage and Lower taxes for hard-working families. We've got the team the work ethic and the plan to do it now with the trifecta in hand We stand ready and united behind President Trump to deliver on his American first agenda once and for all as the 118th Congress proved it may not always be smooth sailing and we may have some disagreements along the way But I've always been a firm believer that there's more that unites us than divides us And so long as we work together as a team I have no doubt we will seize the opportunity in front of us and put our country on a better path for generations to come With that I'll turn it over to our great majority leader Steve Scalise
