Broadcast: June 09, 2016 • Duration: 1:06

*REP. TOM EMMER:

 Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Anoka High School math teacher Paul Kelly for recently serving at the White House in a ceremony for exceptional educators. In addition to teaching math at Anoka High School for the past 29 years, Mr. Kelly serves on the Board of Directors for the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Along with four other teachers from around the country, Mr. Kelly was nominated for this recognition by the staff at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics headquarters. During the ceremony at the White House, Paul had the chance to meet hundreds of other extraordinary teachers as well as the Secretary of Education John B. King and Deputy Assistant to the President for Education Roberto Rodriguez. Mr. Kelly also heard from President Obama thanking the educators for their roles in educating today's youth. A good teacher molds minds, sparks creativity, and gives students keys that can open all of life's doors. Congratulations Mr. Kelly on your recent achievement and thank you for helping Minnesota students achieve their full potential. I yield back.
