HOST:

but it's not congressman tom emmer welcome back to hot talk with the officer a how are you dan did they hear your voice are the pleasures all mine and i'm glad that my a conversation with the speaker uh... after you missing last time because he called you into a meeting i was worked to work because i told him a look if i got tom scheduled i can have you taken him into a meeting uh... well made by the way i hear bring it up this year that thing and i they should do what they do to everybody which is cool quickly disavow a and eliminate from history but they don't do that democrats do not do that uh... no they don't have it yet there's remembered in virginia in virginia they actually elected an attorney general after finding out that he fantasized about assassinating his opponent and his opponent's family they don't do that you know well we'll see if you could help speedy uh... but yeah anyway what a weird what a weird story just popped into popped into the headlines of this morning i'd really didn't hear about that but well anyway we have other things going on to more contemporary i got i got a hit the right away congressman emmer uh... you fly obviously back and forth to the district all the time when is this tsa thing dhs budget thing going to be resolved it is that democrats in the senate come to their senses i mean it's uh... you get you get a senate minority leader in uh... chuck schumer from new york who has clearly passed his prime i mean this is an athlete who struggling to stay uh... relevant and he uh... he's a complete moron at this uh... if you on there you're not funding the department of homeland security wine because you claim that uh... if this is about the immigration customs enforcement department uh... that's fully funded through twenty twenty nine axes so literally what they're doing if they're denying tsa employees paychecks uh... they're denying the coast guard paychecks and by the way we have some of our uh... great coast guard members serving in bahrain right now by in the uh... the eye of the storm they're not getting paid i mean it there'd be this is about that not funding disaster relief this is about not funding that customs and border patrol these guys literally this is about defund the police tool by democrats uh... period and uh... if this is what that chuck schumer uh... the pied piper the political pied piper of the senate is leading his people right off the end of the pier with

is there an exit strategy for these democrats because they're going to have to cave it's theirs to to give up on well my hope is that uh... uh... the majority leader in the senate uh... will move to uh... either completely eliminate the filibuster because it's shown that it is no longer about that trying to reach a compromise agreement it's either there where the highway uh... it that he eliminate this filibuster once and for all in his path the darn thing with fifty one votes uh... or or i have a suggestion for him uh... god forbid a house member might have a suggestion but maybe maybe he just modifies the filibuster rule to provide that in the event the government is not fully funded there is no filibuster rule and you can pass anything and everything with just fifty one votes until the uh... government is fully funded could you imagine we could lift that thing and we could uh... past the department of homeland security bill ourselves and at the same time so the state america act on it and pass them both with fifty one votes that it's all the problem

HOST:

god bless it absolutely uh... we need to solve something that is just it's uh... this is a classic example as far as i can see this is a classic example of you've been in washington too long you you you you you're you're not in touch with with the people you're not in touch with reality uh... that's clear what the democrats are doing uh... because look at a look how it's impacting the general population i'm supposed to fly to dallas for c pack next week uh... i've got a seven o'clock flight five hour wait and we have what am i going to wait yet that this is this is gone beyond a political statement democrats

REP. TOM EMMER:

i totally agree i mean we're now a month into it uh... and it's just because they want to play political games rather than a protect americans like you watch at the issue not winning it's not a winning argument uh... about what what's the what's it like in the house with the war in iran what's the discussion you know i the discussion is twofold one day it's uh... long overdue the uh... did donald trump i didn't start a war donald trump is ending one uh... this has been going on for forty seven years and i was a senior in high school when the atoll came to power and you remember this uh... it this thug this uh... religious uh... i i uh... thug literally declared war on the west this is a uh... their whole mission their whole existence is a bit of western civilization uh... thank god that we've had republicans and democrats over the last almost fifty years just kick this can down the road and i in fact some of them paid ransom right there you got that barack obama and company sending six hundred billion dollars to uh... iran uh... is some form of ransom payment uh... it that has gone back and forth that literally what happens here is that the president uh... became aware of what he determined wasn't imminent threat did not only the american homeland but americans and i i hear it around the world that i can he decided it had to happen and yet by hopefully that mission is ended soon but the other part that we're talking about congress is this is a uh... two-pronged fake because for years uh... this uh... radical regime in iran has not only been building up from within their own country to attack their neighbors and destroy the united states but they've been planning felt all throughout our country and you know i i four of these incidents in just the past month that were activated these are naturalized uh... citizens from sierra leone from my afghanistan from abby these are bad people uh... they were put here and they didn't assimilate they they don't love america they hate america and they're here to uh... carry out the i'd call is uh... admission uh... well he's gone and we need to get rid of these people so that's the discussion one but uh... i hope this mission is that completed very soon uh... i i i i mean we've got it praying for not just the uh... men and women we've lost the men and women that are are over there uh... you carrying out this mission but their families in these are uh... this is the ultimate uh... active uh... of uh... patriotic american is serving this country and freedom here in around the world uh... i but it ends quickly uh... and then we got to keep dealing with these people that are here ox it's time stop looking the other way if you come to this country and you refuse to assimilate as a uh... paid an american you refuse to accept american history you refuse to speak english and and become part of the community uh... you try to create your own community then get the heck out of here we need to be naturalized these folks and ship them back to uh... wherever they came from

HOST:

yeah it's getting irritating and we've allowed it to happen we've almost encouraged it to happen i mean it's cost it's cost lives just look at old dominion the shooting at old dominion it is cost american lives it is time that we put american first this is why donald trump is in office and this is rival republicans are in the majority in the house in the senate well shifting gears to the election coming up and let's tie it into the save america act uh... where do you see the save america act going by how necessary is it for the republicans to maintain uh... the uh... majorities next uh... election

REP. TOM EMMER:

well i don't even want to go there i i want to say it how necessary is it doesn't our laws are are constitution provide only u s citizens can vote in u s elections it doesn't provide that so what the objection to an american citizen proving that he or she is an american citizen i get older registered a vote one of our elections there should be no controversy whatsoever unless of course you want to leave the possibility for nine u s citizens to be voting in u s elections and then the other pieces what is so outrageous about having someone present a photo i d when they go to cast their ballot to prove that they are in fact the citizen that registered to vote again this is not controversial whatsoever unless unless you're in the business fraudulent elections unless you want to give illegals driver's licenses and and give them a voter registration cards at the same time lots of anecdotal stories about that happening in minnesota and by the way uh... minnesota i is at something smells in the secretary of state's office and across minnesota with our elections and i'm not going to put up with that another journalist so-called journalist who said can you point to a one instance of fraud or how about this how about the journalist start reporting on why steve simon is refusing to provide the voting records and data to the federal government that proved that he's running clearly he must not be he doesn't want to release any of the uh... voting information that the u s just the justice department has requested and by the way that they are entitled to because the state administers federal elections but the federal uh... government is still responsible for those elections and have the right to see those records so if you have nothing to hide ox wouldn't you have provided those records immediately i mean i think that's common sense immediately uh... it exposes exactly what's going on there we know what's happening and um... it's obvious that there's no other explanation uh... it uh... the so this a back to spalling so high with the with the voting proletariat if you will we want it everybody wants it we a lot of us think it exists already uh... and so the fat and soon uh... you know leader soon in the senate was saying that i was at thirty four states have some form of this already so it's not like some universal g we have no idea how to implement this nobody's ever talked about this before type proposal this is being done in the majority of states on some level uh... implemented nationwide and a nationwide standard seems like a no-brainer who can argue with that

HOST:

well i i think what we're doing is this for federal elections the state still going to be responsible for its elections but uh... it just makes sense that if you're going to uh... have a federal law that for uh... the office of the president for the office of the u s uh... senators uh... for the offices of the uh... u s representatives in your state you have to provide proof of citizenship at when you register and then a photo i d when you vote i mean it would make sense that if you're doing that for federal elections you just automatically do it for state elections and like you say yes uh... the vast majority of states already do it uh... and it's that you don't hear them complaining about suppressing uh... illegals votes now or what you're doing or women's suppressing the vote of the illegal criminals yep it leaves uh... and then we hope that that's what's happening i would want that to happen that's that's a positive that's what it's all about uh... by the way uh... i don't was he a colleague of yours i'm not sure representative jim nash uh... in your world when you were in the hot state house i'm not sure if he was there yet or not but he had a great observation a democrat senator in minnesota is complaining she's being primary or she's being challenged for her endorsement interview p o u and she's not positive she she's saying that there are people that were voting against her interview p o u that were fraudulently saying that they lived in her district and were not eligible to actually vote for a on on the p p o u level but yet she votes against for a whitey for the rest of us for the general elections

REP. TOM EMMER:

well did they get they know no shame no i mean keep in mind is it the democrats uh... a of today are not my grandfather my grandfather was an honorable proud democrat he and i used to debate the size and scope of government versus the right of an individual to self-determine where that is that we've lost that kind of thoughtfulness now we've got like uh... politicians that use crayons instead of uh... pens and paper uh... these children uh... literally will say whatever they need to say to whoever they would they think they have to say it to that to get themselves elected and reelected and i i do find all the you know to get admission to the uh... a democrat national convention guess what i actually had to show up photo i d by the way senator john also hopefully is going to be an ex-senator after the next election he had a uh... invite only event at town hall in georgia but a month ago in by the way in order to you gain admittance you had to show a photo i d uh... in yet these guys say that that's a problem when somebody cast a vote by the way even the marxist commie mom dom e in new york requires two forms of photo i d if you want to help shovel out the city of new york it's insane
