*REP. TOM EMMER:

 Thanks, Mary. For years, my colleagues and I have been calling out the rampant fraud in my home state of Minnesota, from child care and autism services to meal assistance and housing. Minnesota has been ground zero for fraud in our government programs. Government programs has been set already this morning by Lisa, which are intended for Americans in need. Fraud is not a victimless crime. It is a blatant theft from vulnerable Americans. And let me remind everyone, Democrats like Tim Walz, Keith Ellison and Ilhan Omar created the perfect conditions for this fraud. And then, by the way, they looked the other way while taxpayers were ripped off to the tune of billions of dollars. In contrast, Republicans are taking decisive action to root out waste, fraud and abuse. We're going to make it much harder for fraudsters to take advantage of American generosity. This week, House Republicans are going to pass multiple bills tackling fraud head on. We're not going to do this little frosting garbage that our Democrat candidate for governor tries to do in Minnesota. This is real stuff. First, we're going to pass a package of eight bills to stop child care scams like that of the Quality Leering Center. This package implements common sense state reporting requirements and stricter penalties on both states and providers that misuse federal funds for child care. By the way, Timmy Walz could have done this years ago, but he chose not to. He chose not to. And his administration looked the other way for seven and a half years. Next, we're going to tighten the reins on the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, otherwise known as TANF. By adding safeguards, we will ensure taxpayer dollars actually go to low income families who are trying to get back on their feet, not to fraudsters. And finally, House Republicans are going to pass the No Aid for Go Students Act. Believe it or not, this actually has to be passed to stop the flow of student aid to fraudsters posing as fake students. All of this is common sense, as Lisa has pointed out, and I hope that our colleagues across the aisle can at least start to agree. Make no mistake, these bills are a massive blow to greedy fraudsters like those in my state. Between the work the House Republicans are doing and President Trump's fraud task force with Vice President Vance, and despite Democrats' best efforts, taxpayers can rest assured, knowing their dollars are finally going to be protected. And with that, I turn it over to our leader, Scalegi.
